Bishop Museum Announces New Installation Coming to its Hawaiian Hall Treasure Case,
*Faith and Philanthropy: Queen Emma Kaleleonālani's Visit to England, 1865-1866

Honolulu, Hawai'i — Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, the State of Hawai'i Museum of Natural and Cultural History, announces a new installation coming to historic Hawaiian Hall in its third floor Treasure Case: Faith and Philanthropy: Queen Emma Kaleleonālani's Visit to England, 1865-1866 ("Faith and Philanthropy"), opening Friday, July 19, 2024.

Between 1865-1866, Queen Emma Kaleleonālani departed Hawai'i for a year-long journey to England, her first and only international voyage. Her journey had a specific mission: fundraising for the construction of St. Andrew's Cathedral, the seat of the Anglican Church in the Kingdom of Hawai'i. For 183 days, Queen Emma leveraged her royal status and likeness to garner support and cash funds from English citizens around the country, resulting in national coverage of her extensive travels as well as the adoration of the British public.

Faith and Philanthropy will highlight new research identifying items associated with Queen Emma's travel and fundraising strategies, utilizing objects from multiple Bishop Museum collections to demonstrate not only the richness of Emma's journey but also the social, religious, and political spaces she navigated as a Hawaiian royal.

Faith and Philanthropy: Queen Emma Kaleleonālani's Visit to England, 1865-1866 is curated by Sarah Kuaiwa, Bishop Museum curator for Hawai'i and Pacific Cultural Resources, and designed by Brad Evans, Bishop Museum director of Exhibits. The installation opens on Friday, July 19, 2024 in the third floor Treasure Case of Hawaiian Hall, and will run through Spring 2025.

Members of the news media are invited to view the case, as well as interview Kuaiwa and Evans, upon the case's completion; please contact Lance Aquino via the information above for details.
