Halloweekend: A Saturday of Play at Bishop Museum

Event provides safe, fun, and educational activities for families, and free access to "Expedition Dinosaur: Rise of the Mammals" for those who dress-up as dinosaurs

Honolulu, Hawai'i — Just in time for Halloween, Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum presents "Halloweekend: A Saturday of Play at Bishop Museum." With educational programs across the Museum's 15-acre campus, a social media costume contest, and prizes, Halloweekend will provide a safe and fun experience for families to celebrate Halloween festivities, Bishop Museum-style. Attendees can enjoy Halloweekend on Saturday, October 30, 2021 from 9:30 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Dress up as a dinosaur for free entry into "Expedition Dinosaur: Rise of the Mammals"

Attendees who dress-up as a dinosaur on Halloweekend will receive free entry into the Museum's newest exhibit, "Expedition Dinosaur: Rise of the Mammals."

Free entry applies to the additional exhibit fee for "Expedition Dinosaur: Rise of the Mammals," and does not include Museum admission. Promotion applied at the Museum's Admissions Desk at Shop Pacifica. Attendees are encouraged to reserve their timed admission tickets online at BishopMuseum.org/Tickets.

Social Media Costume Contest

Additionally, keiki who are Hawai'i residents age 18 years and younger are invited to visit the Museum in costume and participate in its social media costume contest. To enter, guests are asked to take a photo at the dinosaur banner selfie station near the Planetarium, or throughout the Dinosaur exhibit or across the Museum campus, then post to a parent's or guardian's public Instagram account. There will be one winner each from morning and afternoon submissions, plus an overall best photo winner.

Face masks that cover both the nose and mouth must be integrated into the costumes, and entries will be judged on their creativity, originality, and any tie-in to Bishop Museum.

A mail-in form of entry will also be available. Full contest rules are posted on the Bishop Museum website, and also being promoted on the Museum's social media channels (@BishopMuseum).

Halloweekend will also feature activities both indoors as well as outdoors through the Museum's Outdoor Museum concept; keiki and families can learn about native plants at the hands-on "GO and GROW!" activity station, color dinosaurs that come to life, enjoy the "haunted" Planet-scare-ium, and learn about the impact of plastic on our oceans at the Parley AIR Station Hawai'i.

"Halloweekend: A Saturday of Play at Bishop Museum" will be a safe event for families, with all Bishop Museum safety protocols regarding mask-wearing and social distancing being observed, as well as COVID-19 mandates at state and county levels.
